Ir is generally believed that the all-consuming desire of the present Head of the Administration to accumulate a surplus has affected the state of our roads. Metal was refused to the Surveyor General because it was too expensive; and when a shower o rain falls, and time is given to the rickshas to operate, the finest mixture of soft mud is the result. An extra tax on the "nex carriagee" innovation for damaging th roads might be introduced, to assist the surplus-if not to mend the surface covering of the roadways. The rov. gentleman preached a powerful discourse upon Paul's entire devotedness to Truth and Duty, and by a gradation of illustration furnished from the life and death of Socrates, Paul and Our Saviour, he succeeded in showing in a most striking and masterly manner how the exercise of the Divinely-implanted sense of zight and wrong in man, and the struggle for the right as against the wrong, constituted true moral beauty. This moral beauty had been perfected by the Founder of Christianity, whose life and death had given a definiteness to all high aims, as he was a full cinbodiment of God himself. The breadth of virtually a transcript of that which had honourable. If some rule could be deview taken by the preacher was most marked; his command of language was thorough, and there was an absence of any straining hand criminals over than Portugal, which were certain difficulties which they might after effect which on such inaugurall occasions is frequently noticeable. There is apparently every reason to believe that the selection of Mr Colville will tend in every way to the prosperity of Union Church.

A PLEASANT little ceremony took place or board the M. M. steamer Yangtsé to-day shortly before she left the harbour. We have already referred to the departure Mr Panizza, and to the honour done him a presentation made to him by his German friends. To-day a presentation was made to him on board the steamer of a very handsome travelling clock in name of the Choral Society, and in acknowledgment of the great assistance that Society has received at his hands. Mr T. G. Williamson made the presentation, remarking that the small gift he now had the pleasure of asking him to accept was selected as a mark of the high esteem in which he was held by those with whom he had laboured in the Choral Society. They regretted very much his departure. They joined in wishing him a time and passed. pleasant voyage and success in his future home. Mr Panizza said he was very much obliged to the Society for this mark of their appreciation of what assistance he had been able to give them. He wished the Choral Society every success, and he had not the slightest doubt that, with the interest the members now took in all they set themselves to do, success would crown their every effort in the future. The gift made was accompanied by the following letter :-"Hongkong, March 14th, 1881.

"My dear Panizza.—I have been deputed by a few friends whose names appear opposite to present you with a small souvening of your connection with the Hongkong Choral Society, and of their united regrets that that connection is now being severed. THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

Queries on the Far East, is issued at in- in connection with we have opened tervals of two months, each number con- | a SELECT HOTEL AND BUSINESS taining about 60 octavo pages, occasionally DIRECTORY, applications for enrolment illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance. The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences. Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resumé in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great | Government Offices, the Secretariat, &c., attention is also paid to the Review.

department. Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when filmished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which athough asking for information, furnish new. or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty paged, bi-monthly, repertory of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Keview. Address China Review. Hongkong.-Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.) Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review :- "This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to "occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the to H.E. the Governor. Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely-desire. able; and contributions of much interest 13ay fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body. mong whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, Arcade. and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In n paper on Dr. Legge's She King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological roblems and arguments involved in con-1 exion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshwess of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Boside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice tha "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contribution on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede cessor in the held, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intend ed to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.
